HOLY WEEK IN
Antigua Guatemala

The commemoration of Lent and Holy Week in Antigua Guatemala boasts centuries-old origins, which shaped many of the traditions and customs, which are part of the religious-cultural heritage of Guatemalans, today declared Intangible Heritage of Humanity by UNESCO.

The collective feeling of the Antiguans has a special eagerness, to see again their processions, touring malls, neighborhoods, and squares of the city that saw them grow, which has marveled thousands of visitors for decades and that only to live a Holy Week in such a mystical city, they understand why they call it “the Jerusalem of America.”

Once again, under the burning sun characteristic of the major week, all the glory of Guatemalan baroque will be seen, expressed in the processional walks, before the sumptuous passage of the Nazarene, the Painful or the buried Lord; balconies will display beautiful decorations in rich tapestry and purple flowers; pilgrims will come to the annual appointment with the image of their devotion, in authentic days of faith, which give life to these blessed traditions.

In the framework of the commemoration of the fifth centenary of the first Christian celebration on Guatemalan soil, this destination of faith shares with the world its rich traditions, during the most representative season for the influx of religious tourism in Guatemala.

Wake orchards in en La Antigua Guatemala

Puring Lent and Holy Week there are particular elements that distinguish this period from the others belonging to the liturgical calendar, such as the gastronomy, processions and wake orchards distinctive symbolisms of this cycle.

The garden is dedicated to commemorating the Passion of Jesus Christ. Therefore, the main image is an image of passion. The most common is that of Jesus of Nazareth (Jesus with the cross on his back), the other frequent is that of the crucified. The least frequent are those of Jesus buried, Jesus of the Column and others. In addition, the garden can be dedicated to the veneration of Our Lady of Sorrows. Today the orchard is in the process of transformation. However, it can be found in some departments such as Sacatepéquez, especially in rural communities and very sporadically in some houses or churches in the capital city, where its memory is reproduced.

In the few houses that the orchard is made, it shows special signs, such as:

- The “milpitas” that are corn seed suckers planted in small tin cans and lined with purple China tissue paper.
- Essential fruits, especially fragrant, are mango, mamey, cashew apple, melon, watermelon, pineapple, among others.
- Odorous flowers and plants, such as roses, corozo, pine leaves and lilies.

The orchards usually reach half of the temple, and the rest are occupied by musicians on the day of the waking. Neighbors send containers with vegetables, fruits, and cages with canaries, distributed inside the church. To conclude, the famous orchards that are made in

Antigua Guatemala are as follows:

- Aldea de Santa Ana, dedicated to Jesus Nazarene of the Sweet Glance.
Fourth Friday of Lent
- San Bartolomé de Becerra, dedicated to Jesus of the Nazarene of the Fall.
Fifth Friday of Lent
- Ermita de San Cristóbal el Bajo, dedicated to Jesus Nazarene of humility.
Dolores Friday
- Parroquia San Sebastián, Templo la Merced, dedicated to Jesus of Nazareth.
Holy Monday
- San Francisco El Grande, Santuario del Santo Hermano Pedro, dedicated to Jesus of the Nazarene of Forgiveness.
Holy Tuesday
- Parroquia Nuestra Señora de los Remedios, Templo de la Escuela de Cristo, dedicated to the buried Lord.
Holy Wednesday.

FIRST SUNDAY OF LENT

Jesús Nazareno de la Salvación “Protector Perpetuo de La Antigua Guatemala”

Templo de Santa Catarina Bobadilla

Address: Plazuela Aldea Santa Catarina Bobadilla, La Antigua Guatemala

Puring the first years of its procession this was held on Holy Tuesday, for Lent of 1948 it was decided to move the procession to the already traditional First Sunday of Lent. The image by tradition is attributed to the sculptor of the seventeenth century Juan Perales.

The morning dew still keeps the coffee plantations of the old haciendas moist, the smell of pine, incense and corozo is very present in the three kilometers that lead from El Calvario to the village of Santa Catarina Bobadilla. The Nazarene “Perpetual Protector of La Antigua Guatemala” will once again bless his people on a beautiful Lenten Sunday.

FIFTH SUNDAY OF LENT
Soberano Rey
y Señor, Jesús Nazareno de la Caída

Templo San Bartolomé Becerra

Address: Calle Real de San Bartolomé Becerra, La Antigua Guatemala

The carving of Jesus Nazarene from the Fall is attributed to the sculptor Pedro de Mendoza in the first half of the seventeenth century, it was consecrated by Mons. Ramiro Pellecer. On April 5th, 1984, his official march is Jesus Nazarene of San Bartolo, work of the master Manuel Antonio Ramirez Croker.

The Aguirre Matheu spouses, owners of the Retana farm asked their sons Jorge and Carlos to organize a procession with the Nazarene of the Fall, they with the help of Don Encarnacion Sicay were the organizers of the first procession of the Sovereign King and Lord of the Fall, on Sunday morning, March 23rd, 1902. The procession rested in a simple altar, prepared in the main house of the farm, in the shade of a leafy amate tree, and in the afternoon, it was taken back to its Hermitage.

This image could have been found around the year 1705 in the Hermitage of Santa Isabel, where it had its own chapel attached to the Hermitage, which demonstrates the roots in the popular devotion of what was Santiago de Guatemala. Excerpt from the book, Historical Facts of the Image of the Crucified Christ of the School of Christ, Mario Ubico, 2011

The peaceful square of the School of Christ is interrupted by the sound of the tzjolaj and the redoubling of the drums. The Christ of mercies goes out in walks to tour the mysticism of Antigua Guatemala, his expressive features immediately move the viewer and among his devotees there is joy to see once again in the streets the Christ of their devotion.

A live performance precedes the procession, which is composed of Romans, Palestinians, holy women, among other characters of the Passion of Christ, who theatrically stage moments such as the judgment of Christ. The ancient streets of the Monument City of America are the perfect setting to immerse oneself in the narrations that precede the traditional procession of the Humbleness Nazarene.

The traditional procession of Jesus Nazarene of Humility is one of the most solemn, which runs through those of Antigua Guatemala, during the major week.

GOOD FRIDAY

Jesús Nazareno de La Merced

Parroquia San Sebastián La Merced

Address: 6.ª avenida Norte y 1.ª Calle Poniente La Antigua Guatemala
www.hermandadlamerced.com

The drums and clarines resonate, marking the reading of Christ's sentence, marking the temple of La Merced. The mystique of Antigua Guatemala is lived in the early morning of Good Friday, whole families present their best designs of dyed sawdust rugs, pine leaves and flowers for the Nazarene to bless their homes as they pass over these ephemeral works of art. Jesus of the Merced in ancient times belonged to the Temple of St. Geronimo, today he runs through the streets covered with smooth red robe, simple cross and a crown made with real thorns brought from the Holy City of Jerusalem.

GOOD FRIDAY

Señor Sepultado de la Escuela de Cristo

Parroquia Nuestra Señora de los Remedios Templo Escuela de Cristo

Address: 1.ª avenida y 10.ª Calle Sur, Calle de los Pasos, La Antigua Guatemala
www.cristoedec.org

The beautiful work of sculptural art is located in the middle of the eighteenth century, its face presents its mouth half open, and eyes half closed, its wounds and abundant blood give it great drama and an indisputable character.

The Jerusalem of America overflows in fervor on the evening of Good Friday, the City of Perpetual Roses changes character, suddenly time stops, the balconies show the sadness reflected in its black banners, mourning that staged the death of the Redeemer. The vibrant funeral notes shake the thousands of faithful who crowd the square of the School of Christ, majestic decorations enhance the famous "Sevillian urn" of the buried Lord.

The tradition of giving condolences to Our Lady of Solitude is as old as the celebrations of Holy Week itself in Guatemala. There were two images that had the greatest roots during the splendor of Santiago de Guatemala, being the Virgin of Manchen and Our Lady of Solitude of the temple of Santo Domingo. Thus was established the pious act of condolence to our mother. La Antigua Guatemala surrenders at the feet of the Solitude of the School of Christ every Friday and Holy Saturday.

30 MAR.

HOLY SATURDAY

Nuestra Señora de Soledad de la Escuela de Cristo

Parroquia Nuestra Señora de los Remedios, Templo Escuela de Cristo

Address: 1.ª avenida y 10.ª Calle Sur, Calle de los Pasos, La Antigua Guatemala.

www.escueladecristo.org

The beautiful sculpture is attributed to the artist Pedro de Mendoza, and on Holy Saturday it travels through the streets of Antigua Guatemala, offerings and prayers are deposited at its feet and thus end the funeral processions in a melancholic company to the solitude of Mary.

The oral tradition tells that when the master sculptor finished the work, it was late at night and he ran out of the material to finish the incarnate that gave color to the image and what would be his surprise when returning to his workshop, the next morning, he would find the job miraculously finished.

Holy Week Traditional Dishes in Antigua Guatemala

According to the former cooks of Antigua Guatemala and its surroundings, the traditional Holy week meals are as follows:

Flakes: Made with flour, orange juice, eggs and sugar; with these ingredients a homogeneous dough is prepared, which is then fried and finally bathed with white honey.

Empanadas: Made with butter, eggs, sugar, salt, salpor flour and wheat, which are mixed to make a dough with which the empanadas are made, filled with delicious delicacy of milk or herbs in its salty version, finally, they are baked.

Chinchivir: Drink prepared with ginger, lemon, mint leaves and spices.

Molletes: are shell-shaped breads with the lid removed, the center is dug out to be soaked in a honey made with water, sugar and a little liquor, which is then filled with a paste made of cream, sugar and cinnamon powder; they are covered, wrapped in egg and fried, and once fried they are served in the aforementioned honey.

Carbanzo en dulce: They are chickpeas cooked in honey made with water, sugar and cinnamon.

Torrejas: Yolk bread is used that is wrapped in egg, then fried and placed in honey made with sugar, clove and cinnamon.

Mole: fried plantains dipped in a chocolate batter, garnished with sesame seeds.

Biscaine cod: Cod in tomato-based sauce, to which olives, slices of hard-boiled eggs and sprigs of parsley are added.

Tamalitos de viaje: Its base is corn with salt and butter, which already cooked and kneaded is wrapped in tuza; at the time of eating, it unwraps and is cut into slices, then heated to the griddle.

Fresco de chilacayote: It is chilacayote cooked in water with cinnamon sticks and cloves, already boiling it adds rapture or sugar. It should be served cold.

Fresco de Súchiles: it is a ferment based on pineapple peel, jocotes, roasted corn, panela, barley, anise, cinnamon, pepper, ginger and water, it is drunk especially at noon on Holy Thursday and Good Friday.
